

14th Annual | 3.4.17 JAMBALAYA Writers' Conference

An event for writers and readers

The Friends of the Terrebonne Parish Public Library announce the 14th annual Jambalaya Writers' Conference, set for March 4, 2017. Writers across all literary backgrounds including debut novelist Nicholas Mainieri, young adult favorite Ashley Elston, and conference alumnus David Middleton, among others, are ready to inspire both readers and writers alike. Aspiring writers from near and far are encouraged to take part in this experience that will promote creativity, enrich local art, and guide both new and practiced writers in their craft. Event will be held at the Terrebonne Parish Main Library (151 Library Drive, Houma).

Keynote Presenter
New York Times Best-Selling Author

Lisa Unger

Lisa Unger has a resume that spans 12 years, 14 novels, and countless awards. Nearly impossible to categorize by literary genre, many of Lisa's novels have been honored as "Best of the Year" picks by the Today show, Good Morning America, and Entertainment Weekly. Much of her work concentrates on human psychology, trauma, and fear. To learn more about Lisa, visit lisaunger.com.
